

Adele is a self-taught didgeridoo player. She discovered this instrument in 2001 and quickly became for her a strong and abundant means of artistic expression. Living in Paris, it is for her the opportunity to make rich musical encounters and will give her the opportunity to explore and merge her instrument with many different styles (electro, tribal, classical, world music, jazz, musics of film and documentaries etc ...).

Her groovy and powerful playing style led her to begin her career in 2004 with the famous electro / organic trance band Secret Vibes with which she will tour around the world for 10 years.

Her meeting with Zalem in 2012 (recognized for her beatbox / wooble style of play) with whom she will form the duo Adele & Zalem which will meet with great success in the international didgeridoo community and many didg festival (Le rêve de l'Aborigène, Indiginus, Didjin'Oz, Fatt festival etc...)

At the same time, Adèle is passionate about other instruments such as the jaws harp, flutes and certain percussions, which will enrich her musical universe which she integrates into various projects.

More recently Adele played with the famous handpan player Jeremy Nattagh, many scenes and studio recordings were born from this rich collaboration.

Adele has also been devoting herself for some time to her solo project which brings together the didgeridoo, the jaws harp and other of her favorite instruments, her voice enriches her compositions, the album of this project is in production.
